

U. S. TO HAVE HEAVIEST GUNS

New Battleships Will Have 16 Inch Guns, Heaviest In the World.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—The two battleships provided for in the current naval bill may be armed with 16-inch rifles, the heaviest naval guns ever designed.

While tentative plans for the new ships contemplate vessels similar in general design to the 16,000-ton giants of the California class now building, details of armament and engine equipment are being given unusual attention by navy designers and the results obtained from the 16-inch main batteries of the newest British and German battleships are being closely watched.

Big Guns Tested.
Already the new 16-inch navy gun has been subjected to tests at the Indian Head proving ground, and while details of its construction and performance are closely guarded, it is known that the gigantic weapon has given proof of its efficiency which delighted navy ordnance experts. The gun was built at the American naval factory and has been undergoing tests for several months.

Some idea of the probable size of the new American gun may be gathered from the fact that each of the eight 15-inch guns of the British battleship Queen Elizabeth weighs 95 tons, while similar rifles designed in the Krupp works for German battleships laid down this year each weigh more than 85 tons. The 14-inch rifles of the battleships New York and Texas for the five new American dreadnoughts now under construction, weigh 62.5 tons each, and it is certain that the new 16-inch weapon weighs more than 100 tons without its mounting.

Krupp engineers have designated a 16-inch gun which fires a projectile weighing 2825 pounds, against the 1675 pound mass of steel hurled by the 15-inch rifles adopted for the German navy and the 1720 pound projectiles poured into Turkish fortresses of the Sardinia by the British battleship Queen Elizabeth. None of the German or British vessels of the first line carry any weapon exactly similar to the American 16-inch gun, a jump having been made last year from the standard 12-inch rifle to the 15-inch type.

May Be Substituted for 14 Inch.
It has been suggested that 16-inch guns could be substituted for the 14-inch batteries of the American battleships now under construction, placing them two to a turret instead of three, and giving the ships eight guns each instead of 12. Navy officers say, however, that the cost of such an alteration would be very great if it could be made at all. They also hold that the American 16-inch gun is the equal of the British or German 15-inch for all practical purposes.

MUCH INTEREST IN HOW TO COOK

El Paso Women Are Anxious For Mrs. Evans to Start Herald's School.

Much interest is manifest in the Herald's forthcoming cooking school and pure food lectures, to be given in the Hotel Paso del Norte, April 2 to 10, inclusive.

These demonstrations and lectures will be given by Mrs. Edna Evans, of Los Angeles, an authority whose knowledge of cooking and the use and preparation of foods is widely known.

Her wide experience as lecturer, her careful preparation for the work while in college and afterward, and her "business of home making," which she regards as a sacred trust, equip Mrs. Evans admirably for the work.

Although happily married, with a charming apartment in her home city, she regards her lecture course on home economics as a mission.

To lead women out of the wilderness of domestic "expediencies" is as high an aim as one could entertain. There is no nonsense about Mrs. Evans. She has the time to indulge in facts or beauty and logic, as every woman does, for admiration and love, find them the source of the greatest unhappiness and misery. They know that even to their own families their principles are anything, and they imagine they are the laughing stock of every stranger.

It is important to know what to say, and when to say it. These essentials all housekeepers must know.

"First aids to the housewife" should be established in every community, whether rural or city. The women of this city are going to have an excellent opportunity to "qualify" in the most dignified and important profession in the world, that of domestic science.

For the first time in this city, a woman, and the clinic will be held daily. No entrance examination will be required. The certificates of graduation will be well filled with the knowledge of the past, and the future may be obtained by sufficient interest on the part of the student.

Be at Hotel Paso del Norte at 2 o'clock, April 2, for the first lecture. Seats are free to all, and an invitation is extended to the public.

RODEO, N. M., IS ROUNDUP PLACE FOR THIRSTY DOUGLAS

Douglas, Ariz., March 19.—Though Rodeo, N. M., is 11.6 north of railroad from here, it's the most attractive place on the whole map for thirsty Douglas people who have been experiencing a long, hard drought since the prohibition law went into effect.

Those who are too dry to stand it any longer usually go to Rodeo on the evening train and come back in the morning well irrigated. It naturally follows that the all night saloons do a thriving business. Rodeo never was half so popular in the past. Bootleggers, traveling between here and Rodeo, did a good business for awhile, but the vigilant police officers speedily killed the game.

SALARIED MAYOR URGES IN CRUCES

Suggestion Made That the Mayor Should Devote Whole Time to City.

Las Cruces, N. M., March 19.—A salaried mayor who will be able to devote his whole time to the city's business is being considered by a number of Las Cruces people. The suggestion was first made by Mayor Porter in his letter of resignation to the city council. Mr. Porter said in his letter that he could not take the time from his business to look after the mayor's work, and suggested that the next mayor of Las Cruces should be paid a salary which would justify him devoting his whole time to the requirements of the town and be personally responsible for the management of its operations as a whole.
